Eldorado? I hope they're not after my
Gold Swimming Medals

Most of us will have seen similar adverts on TV, inviting viewers to sell their broken or unwanted gold items. When I saw this advert showing people with fists full of gold, I didn't believe that many of us would have that amount lying around. I looked at the small amount we had, not enough to warrant a visit to sell it. But collectively, this could be an excellent opportunity to raise funds for our swimming club. If any club member or friends have, broken, unused or unwanted gold items at the back of a draw or in a cupboard gathering dust.

Please pop it into

Alternatively give it to a committee member or your child's swimming coach

Thanks in anticipation of your support
